

The air waves belong to the people not big corporations that support your political party. XM Radio is a big part of my day. When I travel they help me get where I am going.
Leave them alone.